Entertainment and Recreation

The entertainment and recreation sector needs durable and aesthetically-pleasing coating solutions that respond to the industry's unique challenges.

Entertainment and recreational facilities include sporting stadiums, theatres, cinemas, swimming pools, sport and fitness centres, wineries and distilleries, and many more.

Dulux products and systems provide high-performance, long-lasting finishes that enhance these spaces and provide industry-leading protection from high traffic and rigorous cleaning schedules. Our sector expertise allows us to add value to entertainment and recreation construction and maintenance projects, providing trusted specification support.

Our Solutions

Dulux has supported specifiers and contractors on entertainment and recreation projects for more than 100 years. Our products offer sector-specific construction and maintenance solutions, including trafficable concrete floors, antibacterial products, metal structures and waterproofing.

Dulux products are designed to meet the highest quality standards, and our specification team recommends and provides tailored solutions across the spectrum of recreation and entertainment projects.

Our extensive knowledge and sector experience allows us to provide valued support with specification writing and problem-solving. Our participation in sector initiatives and unrelenting focus on innovation mean we're respected as product and industry experts.

Durable finishes for high-traffic areas

The immense crowds that pass through entertainment and recreation facilities mean these spaces must be protected with strong, hard-wearing coatings. Walls and floors are subject to high foot traffic, frequent knocks, scrapes and scuffs, calling for resilient products that are washable and easy to maintain, and minimise the need for regular repainting or recoating.

Depending on the facility, safety and regulatory requirements may also mandate the use of specialist products, including non-slip finishes.

Waterproof solutions

Professional waterproofing solutions are crucial in both underground and above ground structures to meet building code requirements and provide building longevity.

Extensive colour range

Entertainment and recreational facilities aim to be vibrant and welcoming spaces. Dulux offers a broad selection of long-lasting colours and interesting textures and finishes that elevate indoor and outdoor areas.

Hard-wearing protection for external surfaces

High-value public spaces need long-lasting visual appeal. Our protective and powder coatings for steel and aluminium provide durable colour outcomes and excellent chemical and corrosion resistance, and are designed to reduce maintenance disruptions, minimise cracking caused by movement, and withstand harsh weather conditions.

Indoor air quality

The Dulux range includes several low-VOC, low-odour options for when air quality is an important specification requirement.

Our industry-leading low-VOC innovations include Dulux enviro2™, Wash&Wear® and the Decorama tinter system.
